

kloone4000

kloone4000 is an artist initiative by Anje Roosjen opening hours: Mo - Sa 11 am - 7 pm (lectures different hours) address: projectruimte Retort, Aalsmeerweg 103 1059 AG Amsterdam kloone4000 is about to solve a tricky problem.

kloone4000 thinks genomics is a mysterious word.
kloone4000 wants to tempt artists and scientists into cross-fertilization.
kloone4000 is curious about the reactions of the public.
kloone4000 sees major opportunities for the imagination in cloning.
kloone4000 invites artists and scientists to present their work, talk about their fascinations and stimulate future collaboration in a research project, exhibition, lecture program, debates and workshops.

The opening of kloone4000 on Friday 16 September starting at 6 pm in the project space Retort. 7 pm Opening by Roel Arkesteijn (curator GEM Museum for Contemporary Art, The Hague). Speech by dr.
Miriam Van Rijsingen (arthistorian) on behalf of The Arts & Genomics Centre.

Lecture by Koen Vanmechelen (Belgium), about his Cosmopolitan Chicken project: a world-wide breeding project in which the cross-breeding of different national chicken races is central and crucial. The Cosmopolitan Chicken is related to many contemporary issues: genetic manipulation, cloning, globalization and multi-cultures. It is a daring and innovative answer to one of the most essential, human questions: what is our identity, as individuals and as species?

8:15 pm Debate with ao. Koen Vanmechelen, Miriam van Rijsingen, Martijntje Smits (philosopher), Theo Paijmans (editor Blend magazine), Taco Stolk (artist), Paul Groot (critic, Mediamatic), Bas Defize (biologist), moderated by Marjan Slob.
